

SPAN 2025

FIRST ANNUAL MEETING
WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY IN ST. LOUIS
MAY 1-3, 2025

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

SPAN meetings feature joint sessions with talks from both philosophers and neuroscientists.

EXTENDED DEADLINE: FEBRUARY 15TH, 2025

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS:

Mazviita Chirumuuta
The University of Edinburgh

John Krakauer
Johns Hopkins University

INVITED SYMPOSIA

UNDERSTANDING BRAIN FUNCTION

Jacqueline Sullivan
Western University

Russell Poldrack
Stanford University

Joseph LeDoux
New York University

Carl F. Craver
Washington University in St. Louis

INFORMATION SEEKING

Tali Sharot
University College London

Ilya E. Monosov
Washington University in St. Louis

Tony Chemero
University of Cincinnati

Jennifer Bussell
Columbia University

COMPUTATION, EXPLANATION, & NEUROSCIENCE

David Chalmers
New York University

Danielle J. Williams
Washington University in St. Louis

Megan Peters
University of California at Irvine

David Sussillo
Stanford University

BOOK SYMPOSIUM: DEFLATING MENTAL REPRESENTATION

Author: Frances Egan
Rutgers

Casey O'Callaghan
Washington University in St. Louis

John Morrison
Barnard College

Adina Roskies
University of California at Santa Barbara

SPONSORED SYMPOSIA

DEEP SOUTH PHILOSOPHY & NEUROSCIENCE WORKGROUP

What can we learn about current neuroscience
practice
from its history?

Speakers
to be announced

PHILOSOPHY OF MEMORY ORGANIZATION

The philosophy and neuroscience of memory traces

Speakers
to be announced

NEURAL MECHANISMS ONLINE SPECIAL ZOOM SESSION

Plasticity and/or supramodality:
Philosophical implications

Speakers
to be announced

SPAN 2025 is sponsored by:
The Philosophy-Neuroscience-Psychology Program with support from the Department of Neuroscience
& the Psychological and Brain Sciences

Submission Details:
Extended Abstracts
Blinded Submission
250 - 800 Words
(Bibliography not included)

VISIT: philandneuro.com/submissions for more information & access to the submission portals